

THE NOMINAL MAPPING PARAMETER TEN YEARS LATER

Gennaro Chierchia
Harvard University

In this strand of work, I am trying to figure out what aspects of my old proposal are still viable in light of what happened since. I would like to deal particularly (but not exclusively) with Dayal's work as well as with recent proposals by Boskovic and Gajewsky that have put forth a set of quite sweeping typological generalizations centered on the absence vs. presence of the D-projection.